Dog Gives Alarm On Littlestown Blaze

The family dog prevented possible greater damage by giving an alarm Friday morning at 11:50 o'clock when the cornice of a roof at the home of Elmer King, Monarch St., Ext., Littlestown, burst into flames.

The dog, discovering the fire, began barking and refused to be quiet until members of the family investigated and discovered the conflagration.

Little damage was caused by the blaze which the Littlestown Fire Company extinguished with ease. The cornice apparently caught fire from sparks from the chimney. The family had had a fire in a stove to prepare the noon meal shortly before the blaze was discovered.

TREAT TWO BOYS FOR GUNSHOTS; COPS CHECKING

Ronald Crook, 13, of 618 Third St., Hanover, is in the Warner Hospital with shotgun wounds of the chest, back and wrist suffered about 11 o'clock Thursday night while the boy and several others were on a camping trip near Brushtown, according to state police of the Gettysburg substation.

Crook, police said, told conflicting stories of how he was shot, first saying that two other boys were taking him home and the car stalled. While they were pushing it, "someone" shot at them, police said Crook first told them.

Later the Hanover boy gave a different version of the shooting. Police are continuing their investigation. At the hospital today his condition was reported as satisfactory.

York Boy Shot

Another youth was shot about 7 o'clock Friday evening in The Narrows as he and another youth, armed with a 22 caliber rifle, were hunting snakes and birds, according to state police. Police gave his name as William John Thomas, 14, of 211 S. Beaver St., York.

Police said Thomas and Edward L. Bievenour, 16, of 218 Green St., York, had gone to The Narrows to visit two others who were camping near the sawmill. They saw a small snake on the bank of the creek. Police said Thomas reached for the snake at the same time that Bievenour shot the rifle at it.

The bullet tore through Thomas' right middle finger. He was brought to the Warner Hospital and received treatment for the wound and was discharged.

SHOOTING HELD "ACCIDENTAL"

Robert L. Gardner, 21, of York Springs R. 2, who is recovering in the Carlisle Hospital from a gun shot wound in the left thigh he suffered about 10:30 o'clock Wednesday night, had been drinking heavily, state police of the Gettysburg substation said today, and the bullet wound was an accidental, self-inflicted one.

Police said that two of Gardner's brothers, Benjamin and John, had attempted to quiet him. They said Robert finally laid down, and they left him, going to a fruit stand nearby. The thought that Robert had fallen asleep.

Shortly afterward they heard a shot. Police said the brothers and other members of the family, all at the fruit stand, scattered, running across the road and through a field. Then a second shot was heard.

Robert was able to go to a window of John's home, where the shooting took place, and call to a neighbor, police said, who took him first to the office of Dr. William E. Flickinger, York Springs, and then to the Carlisle Hospital.

Father Held For Shooting At Girl

Curtis Lloyd McCurdy, 36, of Fairfield R. 1, was held for court by Justice of the Peace Roger Myers, Fairfield, on four charges, one of them shooting at his 12-year-old daughter, according to state police of the Gettysburg substation.

McCurdy's wife filed the first complaint, according to police, charging that on June 27 her husband pointed a .22 caliber rifle at the daughter, Matilda Pearl, and discharged it. The bullet did not strike the child.

After investigation by state police, the latter filed three additional charges, two morals charges and a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

McCurdy was held for sentence court after pleading guilty to the charges, police said, and remanded to jail in default of $2,000 bail, $1,000 on the shooting charge and $1,000 on the morals charges.

Young Maryland Mother Killed, Child Hurt In Cross Keys Crash Friday Morning; Husband Held

A young mother was killed and her two-year-old child seriously injured when a car driven by the husband and father failed to halt for a stop sign at Cross Keys early Friday morning and was struck by another vehicle.

Mrs. Wanda Pauline Harris, 22, Cockeysville, Md., suffered a fractured pelvis, a possibly severed spine and a number of deep lacerations when the cars collided at 6:50 o'clock Friday morning. She died at 7:18 o'clock at the Hanover Hospital, just 28 minutes after the crash.

State police from Gettysburg who investigated said Mrs. Harris was thrown from her husband's car when it was struck by an auto operated by Roy C. Gross, 35, York, and apparently one of the careening vehicles passed over her.

Saw One Sign, Not Other

Her husband, Simeon Henry Harris, a truck driver, has been charged with involuntary manslaughter and aggravated assault and battery by auto as the result of the crash. He suffered a bruised knee in the smash-up. Their two-year-old daughter, Diana Harris, is a patient in the Hanover Hospital with a possible fracture of the skull and numerous lacerations and contusions.

Also injured in the crash was Mrs. Miriam Gross, 33, wife of the driver of the other car. She was treated at the Hanover Hospital for contusions of the chest and knee.

Harris told police he was looking at a roadside sign to determine the distance to Carlisle as he drove his car north on the Hanover-Cross Keys Rd. He said he failed to see the stop sign at the intersection and drove into the Lincoln Highway without stopping. As his car entered Route 30, it was struck on the right side by the Gross car headed west.

$1,000 Damage to Cars

Damage to the two cars was estimated by police at $1,100, $500 to the Harris vehicle and $600 to the Gross car.

Investigation officers said it was believed that Harris was driving at about 30 miles per hour when his vehicle entered the intersection.

Plan Inquest

The two-count charge, of involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Harris and assault and battery by auto in connection with Mrs. Gross' injuries, was brought before Justice of the Peace Gerald Orndorff, Oxford Twp. Police said the two counts in the same charge and the investigation should lead to dropping of the involuntary manslaughter or the other count. Both are in the same information, and one could be dropped or thrown out and the other retained.

Harris was released under $1,000 bail for a future hearing and an inquest tentatively scheduled by the office of York County Coroner Lester D. Sell for July 10 at 10 a.m. in the Hanover fire engine house.

New College President Busy Getting Settled In New Position

Dr. Walter C. Langsam has no pronouncements to make now on plans or policies for his administration as president of Gettysburg College.

He's too busy learning his new job and so far the man who was president of Wagner College, Staten Island, N. Y., feels "very much a freshman" at his new undertaking.

Since taking over the reins of college administration here July 1, Dr. Langsam has been busy learning to know the staff, faculty and campus. Conferences are being held daily with faculty members who remained here for the summer.

"If I were ten men, they'd all be busy," Dr. Langsam told a reporter for The Gettysburg Times Thursday afternoon.

EXPENSE PROBE ON CAMPAIGNS IS DEMANDED

By The Associated Press
A congressional investigation of campaign spending by men who seek the presidency was demanded today by one of them.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, technically a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination as Minnesota's "favorite son," said it is important to know whether the cost of a presidential campaign is now so high that only the wealthy, or those supported by the wealthy can attain the nation's highest office.

He asked the Senate elections subcommittee for a full scale study of the subject embracing presidential aspirants of both major parties.

Contest For Democrats
Mentioning no names, Humphrey said that if charges of political deals, stealing delegates and smear literature are true "we are witnessing the degradation of the nominating process." If it is not stopped, he said, it will mean "we have allowed a price tag to be placed on the presidency."

With Republicans still screaming at each other over the way the GOP National Committee handled disputed delegates to the National Convention opening in Chicago Monday, a Democratic delegate contest shaped up today in Mississippi.

Pro-Truman Democrats, offering an unconditional pledge of loyalty to the national party, held a state convention in Jackson, Miss., to elect delegates to the National Convention starting in Chicago July 21. The loyalist delegates will challenge a states rights slate for Mississippi's 18 votes at the National Convention.

Manslaughter Is Charged In Death

A charge of involuntary manslaughter has been filed against Robert A. Verdier Jr., 21, Waynesboro carpenter, as the result of the death of Esther I. Masser, 18, of Pountindale, in an automobile accident at Old Forge on June 21, State Policeman Frank Bender of the Chambersburg sub-station said Friday.

The charge is the second to be filed before Justice of the Peace Paul R. Frankfield of Quincey Twp. against Verdier as a result of the accident. Previously he had been charged with driving while his license was suspended. He was at liberty under $1,000 bond on that charge when the more serious charge was entered. The warrant in the second case was not served immediately.

The girl, 1952 graduate of Washington Twp. High School at Hoo-verville, died in the Waynesboro Hospital three days after the car driven by Verdier overturned on a curve.

Driver Hurt; $1,200 Damage In Accident

Lester D. Brady, 22, of McSherrystown, suffered lacerations of the forehead and face at 7:05 o'clock Friday night when a station wagon he was driving crashed into a sedan owned by Merrett J. Collins of Lebanon, on the Fairplay-Harney Rd., three miles east of Fairplay, according to state police of the Gettysburg substation.

Police said Brady was driving east, and that his station wagon went off the left side of the road rounding a curve and struck Merrett's sedan after the latter had driven into a private driveway.

The Brady car continued for about 75 feet and then overturned, police said. It was almost a total loss, with damage estimated at $1,200, according to police. Damage to the Merrett car was estimated at $50.

SHORT FLIGHT FOR STOWAWAYS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It was a short flight for two college students who climbed into the nose-wheel well of an airliner headed for Chicago last night.

Harvey A. Wichman, 20, and Russell L. La Rose, 19, both of Greendale, Wis., were turned over to police on a stowaway charge after the plane crew learned of their presence five minutes after takeoff. The two said they wanted to go home for summer vacation but were short on cash.

Visitors at the Los Angeles International Airport saw two youths scale a fence and climb onto a plane parked on the apron preparatory to takeoff. They notified tower officials who radioed the United Air Lines plane captain. He returned the plane to the airport.

Air line officials said the youths would have died from lack of oxygen at the 19,000-foot altitude where the plane flies. Wichman had been attending Los Angeles City College and La Rose said he was a student at Deep Springs Junior College near Bishop, Calif.

CONGRESS IS IN FEVERISH RUSH

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another feverish day of legislating lay ahead of Congress today before it shuts up shop on the eve of the Republican National Convention.

Before adjournment, tonight or earlier, the lawmakers still had to jam through appropriations totaling almost 60 billion dollars. Agreement also had to be reached on measures boosting social security payments, bolstering farm price supports and authorizing far-flung military construction projects.

Administration leaders planned for a sine die adjournment, meaning that the law-making days of the 82nd Congress would be over unless President Truman should call it back in special session.

Some Republican senators, and a few Democrats, favored recessing until a fixed date, or at least giving congressional leaders authority to call another session.

One viewpoint was summed up by Sen. Williams (R-Del.), who said that "it's not right for Congress to adjourn sine die with the Korean War and the steel strike on."

Election Soon As Possible, Says Rhee

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—President Syngman Rhee said today a presidential election will be held as soon as possible and added he does "not wish to run and I want the people to understand this."

Government officials, however, expressed belief that the 77-year-old President would accept re-election.

The National Assembly last night by overwhelming vote approved a compromise constitutional amendment providing for direct popular election of the President, a two-house Congress and some Assembly influence over the Cabinet.

The action ended a six-week political crisis brought on by Rhee demanding the Assembly give up its right to elect the president. The amendment was passed at a marathon two-day and two-night session.

Expense Money Is Repaid To County

Clark L. Petters, G. Ed. Taughnbaugh and Mervin Benner Wednesday repaid to the county treasurer the amount they had received as "expenses" for their duties as members of the institution district board under a state law which was recently declared unconstitutional.

The commissioners had received the money in 1949, 1950 and 1951 under the act of the 1949 Legislature. Early in 1951 the question of the constitutionality of the law was raised in another county and the local commissioners stopped accepting the fund. At the same time, because no one knew whether it was legal to accept the money or not, the commissioners entered into an agreement to pay back all they had received up to that time if the law was finally declared unconstitutional. They fulfilled their agreement this week.

TRADITION SAYS BROOKLYN AND YANKEES WILL REACH SERIES

Associated Press Sports Writer
If the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees clash in the 1952 World Series it will mark the fulfillment of an old baseball tradition for the first time in three years.

According to tradition National and American League teams holding first place after games of July 4th will win the pennant.

Both the Dodgers and Yanks lead their respective leagues today but they're not counting that World Series dough.

Usually Works Out
Since 1900, 33 teams in each league that occupied first place on the morning of July 5th went on to win the pennant. The other 18 fell by the way side.

Brooklyn celebrated Independence Day by turning back the runner-up New York Giants, 5-1, in the opener of a doubleheader. The game was called after eight innings because of rain and the second game was postponed.

The Yanks safeguarded their 2½-game edge by tripping Washington, 9-4 and 4-3 while the second place Chicago White Sox defeated the St. Louis Browns, 3-1 and 2-0, and the third place Cleveland Indians trounced Detroit, 11-0 and 10-1. The Boston Red Sox whacked Philadelphia, 10-5, but the A's bounced back to win the second game, 4-3.

Bucs, Cards, Braves Win
Pittsburgh, the St. Louis Cardinals and the Boston Braves all won doubleheaders in the National League. The Pirates brushed back Cincinnati, 4-2 and 5-2, the Cards whipped Chicago, 13-7 and 4-1, to take over third place from the Cubs and the Braves downed the Philadelphia Phillies, 2-1 and 3-2.

Sal Maglie, who boasted a string of eight straight victories over Brooklyn including three shutouts this season, lasted only two innings. Relief ace Clem Labine blanked the Giants on five hits after spelling Preacher Roe in the first inning.

The Cardinals, victorious in 15 of their last 19 starts, creamed five Chicago pitchers for 16 hits including a grand-slam homer by Hal Rice and a two-run blast by Dick Sisler in the opener at St. Louis. Gerry Staley shutout the Cubs after Gene Hermanski's first inning homer in the second game to run St. Louis' winning streak to six games.

Long Job For Yanks
Rookie shortstop Dick Groat clouted a two-run single in the ninth inning to beat the Reds in the first game at Cincinnati. Recruit Harry Fisher gained his first big league triumph for the Pirates in the second game. Fisher needed help from relief specialist Ted Wilks who looked up the decision.

Yearling Ed Mathews homered in the 11th inning to beat Karl Drews and the Phils in the first of two at Boston. Vern Bickford bested Ken Heintzelman, making his first start of the season, in the second game.

It took the Yanks nearly eight hours to take the Senators to the cleaners before 26,528 fans including President Truman.

The second game was decided in the seventh inning, the Yanks scoring three runs following a hotly disputed play. Washington manager Bucky Harris and catcher Mickey Grasso bitterly protested umpire Ed Hurley's ruling that a grounder by Yogi Berra was a fair ball. Senator first baseman Mckey Vernon, believing the ball was foul, didn't step on the base. Joe Collins scored from third on the play to tie the score at 2-2 and the Yanks shoved two more runs home to win.

Interstate

By The Associated Press
Sunbury's rejuvenated baseball nine was the talk of the Interstate League today.

Sweeping both ends of a holiday bill with Harrisburg yesterday, 9-3 and 8-5, Sunbury pulled itself out of the cellar position for the first time since the middle of May.

The new occupant is Harrisburg, the team that dropped six out of seven to Sunbury during the last week.

Elsewhere in the league, Hagerstown took an even firmer grip on first place—4½ games out now—by topping York twice, 7-5 and 7-3. Wilmington lost to Salisbury 6-1 then came back to win 3-0. Allentown and Lancaster remained in a tie for third by splitting their twin bill, Allentown winning the opener 7-3 and Lancaster the night-capper 3-0.

TENNIS TITLE TO U. S. 7TH YEAR

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Louise Brough, 29-year-old campaigner from Beverly Hills, Calif., who has won three Wimbledon titles, matches volleys with 17-year-old Maureen Connolly, the U. S. champion from San Diego, Calif., today in the all-American women's singles finals on Wimbledon's center court.

The match that will extend America's ownership of the recognized women's tennis championship of the world to seven consecutive years is scheduled to start at 8 a. m. (EST).

The world-beating Australians, Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor, are favored to hold their men's doubles championship to add to the singles title won yesterday by Sedgman. The Aussies oppose Vic Seixas of Philadelphia and Eric Sturgess of South Africa.

Sedgman, a curly-haired 24-year-old who also holds the U. S. crown, steamed past Jaroslav Drobny, self-exiled Czech who now calls Egypt his home, in four lack-luster sets that left many among the center court crowd of 13,000 yawning.

BOB MATHIAS U. S. CHAMPION FOR 4TH TIME

TULARE, Calif. (AP) — The Bob Mathias story, a small town wonder inscribed in the records of the world, took on another amazing and magnificent chapter Thursday.

The next pages will be added this month in the Olympic Games at Finland, when handsome, 21-year-old Bob, the world's greatest track and field athlete, collides again with the best of other lands.

But first comes the chapter written last night by Mathias.

He broke the world record of 7,444 points he set in 1950 with a smashing 7,825 points.

He won the United States championship for the fourth time, something no one else ever did.

He won his berth on the U. S. Olympic decathlon team, and left this little town of 12,000 this morning in company with his teammates, New York-Helsinki bound.

Beat Field In 1948
Mathias, national winner in 1948-49-50-52, whipped the field in the 1948 Olympics at the age of 17 and should do it again.

Six-foot-two, 200 pounds, Mathias is about 10 pounds heavier than in '48. But he improved all his previous best decathlon marks except in the pole vault and 1,500-meter run. He was just a shade under those.

Here are his marks set in the wearing, wearying two-night program: 100 meters—0:10.8; broad jump — 23-5¼; shotput—49-10½; high jump—6-2¼; 400-meter run—0:50.8; 110-meter high hurdles—0:14.6; discus—157-11½; pole vault—12-3¼; javelin — 193-10½; 1,500-meter run—4:55.3.

Eastern League

By The Associated Press

The Eastern League baseball season is nearing the half-way mark with the spotlight on the race for second place.

The Schenectady Blue Jays, eight games back of the pace-setting Albany Senators, are having trouble meeting the challenge of Reading and Binghamton.

Reading whipped the Scranton miners, 5-1 and 6-3, yesterday on five-hit pitching by Bob Vargas and Howard Rodemeyer and advanced to within a game of the Blue Jays—but only half a game in front of Binghamton.

The Triplets rapped 11 hits in a 4-2 first-game win at Schenectady. The Jays got even, 7-2, in the night-capper, with Pitcher Dave Smullen contributing a two-run homer.

In the opener at Hartford, the seventh-place chiefs handed 12-game winner George Uza of Albany his third loss, 4-0, on nine-hit pitching by Dick Carmichael. Big Ben Dardoni, relief hurler making his first start of the season for the Senators, won the second, 7-2, on a six-hitter. Haywood Sullistaub slammed a two-run homer in the Senators' six-run fifth inning.

Elmira took cellar-dwelling Williamsport, 9-0, after the Tigers had won, 6-3.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

SIMPLICITY AND SIMPLE THINGS

People who live simple lives always seem to be the happiest.
Having less responsibilities, they have less worries and less obligations. Simple things are translated into a universal language that needs no interpretation.

It's the simple songs of our childhood that stay with us, no matter how familiar we may later be with the more classic examples of songs and music. Millions of children have been brought up on the simple nursery rhymes and stories. Once lodged in the child mind, they never fall out!

Simple pleasures are the ones that give us the greatest satisfaction. When I see a happy family sitting by the roadside having a picnic in the summer time, my thoughts to back to when I was one of those happy creatures, celebrating in the joy of a picnic.

There are devices in most every home that are simplicity themselves. They are useful because they are so simple. Fortunes have been made through the creation and invention of simple things of value and use in the average home.

Simple art is the most interesting. "Grandma Moses" became famous because she painted simple things that everyone could understand. I am a lover of etching art. I have learned that the first states always are sought for by those who know. It's because the first state is always to simple and attractive. Many a plate has been destroyed by putting too much in it. This is true of many a painting and many a piece of writing.

The newspaper editor keeps calling for simplicity, simplicity.
I have been told that motion picture people will not consider a manuscript or scenario until its story has been reduced to three hundred words. Brief books live longer and are ready by more people than those that are so long that a reader early loses interest.
Things are wonderful in nature, but they are not complicated. They are simple. All nature may be our school room.

APPEARANCE

A missing button from his coat
He would be very quick to note.
A garment needing such repair
He was too proud a man to wear.

His ties were always neatly tied.
A shirt worn through he put aside.
And even though the pair was new

He wouldn't wear a squeaky shoe.

Yet, loud of voice and rude he stayed.

Ill-temper often he displayed.
He dressed himself with care, but he Still kept his faults for all to see.

Appearance is what money buys.
And bought the finest on the ties

But stayed untidy with himself.
He gave his thoughts to coats and shells.

EISENHOWER TO BATTLE TAFT ON VOTE DISPUTES

By JACK BELL

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Robert A.
Taft's Texas-borne surge toward the Republican presidential nomination faced a blistering challenge today from supporters of Gen.
Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The two major contenders, arriving here during the day, were ready to take over personal direction of a round-by-round battle in next week's convention for the 604 votes needed to give one of them the party's nomination.

Taft's chief lieutenants told a reporter they expect him to decide whether he will shoot the political works on an attempt to win a first ballot nomination.

Taft Needs 74

J. Russell Sprague, New York national committeeman and an Eisenhower backer, predicted in an interview the general will win by a 50-vote margin a convention rules test on the question of barring disputed delegates from voting on the seating of contested groups.

For Taft, any such result would represent the first major setback in a week of pre-convention activities which has seen him—backed by Gen. Douglas MacArthur and supported indirectly by former President Herbert Hoover—sweep to within 74 votes of the needed nomination total in The Associated Press tabulation.

This scoreboard includes contested delegates awarded to Taft by the Republican National Committee. Since the committee's decisions are being appealed, only the events of next week can determine just how high Taft's total will be.

530 To 427
As of now, the count showed:
Taft 530, Eisenhower 427, other candidates 131, still uncommitted 118.

The Ohioan increased his lead yesterday when the Republican National Committee voted 60 to 41 to accept the senator's personally devised compromise of the explosive dispute over 38 Texas delegates.

Despite repeated cries by Eisenhower's supporters that a "steal" had been engineered in the Lone Star State, the committee voted to give Taft 22 of the delegates and assign 16 of them to Eisenhower.

Fight Has Only Begun

This was exactly what Taft had proposed earlier in the day and what Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, national campaign manager for Eisenhower, had rejected as a "compromise with fraud."

Lodge, Sprague and other Eisenhower leaders made it clear quickly that they had only begun to fight. They said they will carry their high voltage protests to the Credentials Committee and to the convention floor itself.

This indicated it might be several days before the delegates would get around to voting on a nominee.

All told the National Committee has handed down decision in 96 contests—and the bulk of the winners are for Taft. But Sprague said that even so the Lodge motion would carry by 50 votes.

Chadwick Fails In Cataline Channel

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—Florence Chadwick knows today that the toughest problems lie right close to home.

The San Diego swimmer—twice victor over the English Channel—just missed swimming the Cataline Channel yesterday. She wants to try it again Labor Day.

She crawled more than 20-21 of the distance, then had to give up because of cold only three-fourths of a mile from the mainland.

Miss Chadwick appeared to be a shoo-in to complete the swim until she hit a four-knot current several miles off Cabrillo Beach, her destination. She was able to make only three miles in the final three hours.

activities during the past week included the making of paper plate plaques and playing various quiet noon sessions the children have been making plaster of Paris molds of kittens, Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer, Red Ryder and others.

Silhouettes of covered wagons, etc., were also made. Recreation officials hope to secure some new molds in the near future including one for making leaves. There will also be painting of smooth rocks. In the mornings, next week, the children will make houses with furniture and people cut out of old catalogues.

Plans are being made to stage a

LITTLE STEEL JOINS FIGHT ON UNION SHOP

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A source close to one of the major steel producers says several smaller concerns have joined the industry's "Big Six" in the battle against the CIO United Steelworkers' demand for a strike-ending contract providing compulsory union membership.

The sources say several smaller companies were represented at a secret meeting of the Big Six at Cleveland Tuesday and decided to maintain a solid front against the union. He says the companies decided "they cannot and must not back down in their insistence that workers be allowed to work whether they are members of the union or not."

The Big Six are U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Jones and Laughlin, Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Inland.

No Meetings Planned

A top industrialist in Pittsburgh declared there are no new negotiating meetings in sight to end the strike, which began June 2.

During the past few days the union has signed agreements with more than 30 smaller companies which provide a modified form of union shop. This calls for new employees to join the union but permits them to withdraw between the 20th and 30th day of employment.

The strike has idled more than one million workers—600,000 steelworkers and more than 400,000 employees of allied industries.

Stop Making Shells

As the strike headed into its second month and more companies either furloughed employees or announced planned layoffs.

Thor Corp has begun closing down its artillery shell plant at Bloomington, Ill., because of the lack of steel. Some 500 workers make 100mm shells at the plant.

While the steelworkers' union continued its drive to sign up smaller companies, one concern which already has signed applied for a price increase. Pittsburgh Steel notified the government it is boosting its prices about $3 a ton under the Capehart Amendment.

Latest contracts signed were with the Phoenix Iron and Steel Company, Phoenixville, Pa., and E. W. Bliss Company's Canton, O. division. The Phoenix agreement, reached last night, provides for a

Quadruple Amputee Drives Car Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cpl. Robert L. Smith, first quadruple amputee of the Korean War, drove away from Walter Reed Hospital in his specially equipped sedan Wednesday, planning to make return trips to the hospital in the future.

But those planned 183-mile journeys from his Middleburg, Pa., home to Walter Reed won't be made as a patient. Bob told those who gathered to see him off he'll return to see friends and give encouragement to other amputees.

"That makes our work really worth while," was the comment of Maj. Gen. Paul H. Streit, commanding general of the hospital, when he saw the soldier smile as he drove off, waving his hand—an artificial one.

TAFT BACKERS HIT STATEMENT

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft's top campaign command disagreed sharply today with a statement from 23 Republican governors who took sides with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on a critical convention issue.

Two of them said they believe the governors were unaware of the implications of the manifesto.

The governors signed a statement at Houston, Tex., Wednesday urging Republican National Convention officials to bar contested state delegations from voting on any other delegate disputes.

Tom Coleman, floor manager for Taft, snapped: "The governors ought to read up on parliamentary procedure."

And David Ingalls, campaign manager for the senator, commented to this reporter: "Either they didn't think it through, or else they just don't understand what this means. You couldn't have a convention under such a rule."

Ingalls said he interpreted the statement as a sign "the Eisenhower people are licked."

Another of Taft's aides, who asked not to be identified, said Taft was "dumbfounded" when he heard the news.

Just Tom Dewey At This Convention

CHICAGO (AP)—Politically speaking, four years make a lot of difference.

A delegate to the Republican National Convention, which starts here Monday, arrived in town Wednesday. He's listed on the official program as "Thomas E. Dewey, 45 E. 45th St., New York City."

Four years ago, all Republican eyes were on Gov. Dewey of New York. Those who supported him watched him eagerly; those who supported Sen. Robert A. Taft or Harold Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, watched apprehensively. But they all watched with intense interest, because they were sure that whoever was chosen would be the next President of the United States. Didn't all the polls say so?

ROCKET ARMED PLANE TESTED

PALMDALE, Calif. (AP)—The first United States combat plane with all-rocket armament has just zoomed through a special test flight at a speed so fast that the slipstream burned the paint off her nose.

The new jet, a thin-wing, two-place aircraft developed by Lockheed from its F80 Shooting Star, is called the Starfire. She's an all-weather interceptor designed to shoot down invading bombers.

Tony Levier, chief engineering test pilot for Lockheed, but her through her paces Wednesday at the Palmdale Airport. Her takeoff and climb demonstrated her ability to streak upward to 45,000 feet and above, with a warmup of less than 30 seconds. Her speed is secret.

She is known as the F94c to her designers. The ship is now going into full production.

Pair Sentenced In Theft Of Trailer

HARRISBURG (AP)—Federal Judge Frederick V. Pollner has sentenced two Harrisburg men to 2½ years in prison for their part in the theft of a trailer loaded with $40,000 worth of liquor.

Daniel G. Pottelger, 25, of Harrisburg, and Marion I. Wolford, 41, of suburban Enghart, had pleaded guilty to theft of 699 cases of liquor from a trailer parked on the Pennsylvania Turnpike last January 19 in nearby York County.

Pollner placed a third man, Frederick McClellan Noss, 29, of Harrisburg, on five years' probation. Noss pleaded guilty to possession of $2 cases of the stolen whiskey.

HELD IN DEATH

MONACA, Pa. (AP)—Police are holding Sante Santelli, 74, on an open charge today after finding John Bonanno, 70, shot to death in a two-room dwelling the men occupied.

County Det. Michael Hoyman quoted Santelli as saying Bonanno attacked him with a knife. Hoyman said the two men apparently argued over a bottle of wine.

Time continues to prove that down the road to carelessness bent fenders help to make broke motorists.

Is Car Radio Slipping?

It seems to me that of late fewer motorists are using their car radios. I wonder why. Is it because traffic has become so much more congested that drivers either do not think about entertaining and instructions a wheel or feel that this might interfere with proper handling of the car. Has the novelty of radio worn off? Is there too much talk on radio and not enough music? Is the automobile one form of escape and the radio too inclined to keep us aware of a troubled world?

Whatever the reason, or reasons, it seems to me that we could continue to find radio a useful addition to motoring by better choice of programs. I checked with some of my friends and found that they were least familiar with programs that were aired at times when they usually were awake. It simply revealed need for checking radio program timetables, or turning on the set more often. One owner used the radio to help compensate for a current regulator that wasn't holding the generator's charging rate down. He stumbled into a program he has been following ever since.

Rough On Inner Tubes

Check back over your tire punctures and I think you'll be surprised to find that often this is the aftermath of rough use of the car. You may have driven into a bad chuck hole. The car may have skidded. All this affects the tires. It may aggravate a rim cut, or force some sharp foreign object already in the shoe to go through and puncture the inner tube. One of my flats was due to the rear end of the car bottoming when I drove over the edge of a culvert pulling out of a restaurant parking lot.

It is refreshing indeed to find a car noise that tells just one condition and only one. Such a noise is that which develops in the rear end of the car when going around curves. It means trouble with the differential case assembly located inside the rear axle housing. Several things may be wrong. First, there may simply be excessive backlash between the gears. Or the differential pinion gear may be tight on the pinion shaft. Or the side bearings may be too tight in the differential assembly. Checking all so may reveal that there are damaged gears or thrust washers.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:
 "The shock absorber people themselves are largely to blame for the fact that so few car owners ever think of the car's spring controls as having to do with safety. In stressing the importance of the 'shocks' in the comfort picture the general impression is that these devices are something in the luxury class, whereas they have a lot to do with any car's stability."

Shimmy And Greasing

One of the oddities in motoring is the fact that if the front wheels are permitted to indulge in a rash of shimmy you won't get full value from front-end greasing. Naturally the continuous shaking loosens up the front end and forces the lube too quickly. Another angle is that if shimmy develops after the car is lubricated the indications are that front end parts are badly worn. Lube under pressure changes their position enough to cause this.

Ever glance at the shop windows to get useful reflections when you park the car? It is a smart way to know just how much room you have behind the car. A rule that may get you into trouble, however, is judging your distance from the curb by watching the far side of the car behind—that is, unless you are sure it isn't a foreign car or one of the smaller American jobs that isn't standard width. Remember, too, that you are more likely to lock bumpers with the older cars.

Watch That Hand Brake

Is your car one of those with a hand brake attached to the propeller shaft just behind the transmission? In this spot a brake is likely to become oily from lube leaking from the transmission. When this happens the lining must be replaced.

Another cause of inefficiency of this brake is the appearance of high spots. These usually can be removed by running the car up to 25 miles an hour and then bringing it to a stop by gradually applying the hand brake. Do this several times after allowing the brake to cool off. Following this, re-adjust the hand brake.

More In The Making

It is customary for authors to start planning their next book the day the first one is off the press, so I may as well be normal and talk about some of the other things in prospect now that "Car Cure" is on sale. Nearly completed is a lively tome designed to intrigue the man who isn't too mechanically inclined but who feels that he doesn't want to be embarrassed when discussing the service needs of his car with his repairman. This will also be slanted to the woman car owner who has become quite a factor. She knows more about cars than men like to admit, and she is determined to know more.

Then there is the Scrap Book of the best material from this column. It will be assembled in such a way that useful ideas can be located by index. Nothing like this has been done before, and your letters have told me plainly that it is needed.

Vents Let In Dust

Your car's engine may be well protected with an air cleaner, assuming that you keep the cleaner clean and see that it has the right amount of oil, if it is the oil-bath type. But don't forget that a lot of dust-laden air can get into the crankcase through the vents. There is a screen at the front vent but it is not much of a filter. Dust can also get in through the oil filler pipe as well as the rear crankcase vent. Remember that in some cities as much as four tons of dust fall upon each square mile every day.

This dust combines with oil, water and acids to form sludge. That is why I am such a stickler for having the oil pan taken down and the crankcase interior manually cleaned out. The valve compartment is another point for sludge accumulation.

Having Their Troubles

Q. There doesn't seem to be any way to re-adjust the oil pressure on my car. There is a relief valve, but no means of adjusting. J. L. N.

A. On your car this is done by changing the relief valve springs. There are different tensions for replacement springs, identified by different colors.

Q. Sometimes the starter doesn't actually move the motor, although there is evidence that the starting motor itself is in action. What's wrong? Wm G.

A. The drive pinion probably is sticking on its sleeve. There are, however, several other things that may be wrong with this pinion, so better have it taken off and checked.

Q. It has been necessary to replace one of the rear wheel bearings twice within a month's time. Ever hear of this? F. McK.

A. Sure. The axle housing may be sprung.

There are no native pure-blooded Indians left in Uruguay.

ANTLERLESS DEER SEASON LONGEST EVER

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania hunters will be able to enjoy the longest antlerless deer season they have ever had next December.

The State Game Commission announced Thursday a three-day season on the antlerless animals Dec. 15-16-17 in order to thin out the state's heavy deer herd. Two-day seasons were held the last two years.

Two-Week Buck Season
The commission estimated there are now about a half million antlerless deer in commonwealth fields and forests—or about one buck for every five or six doe.

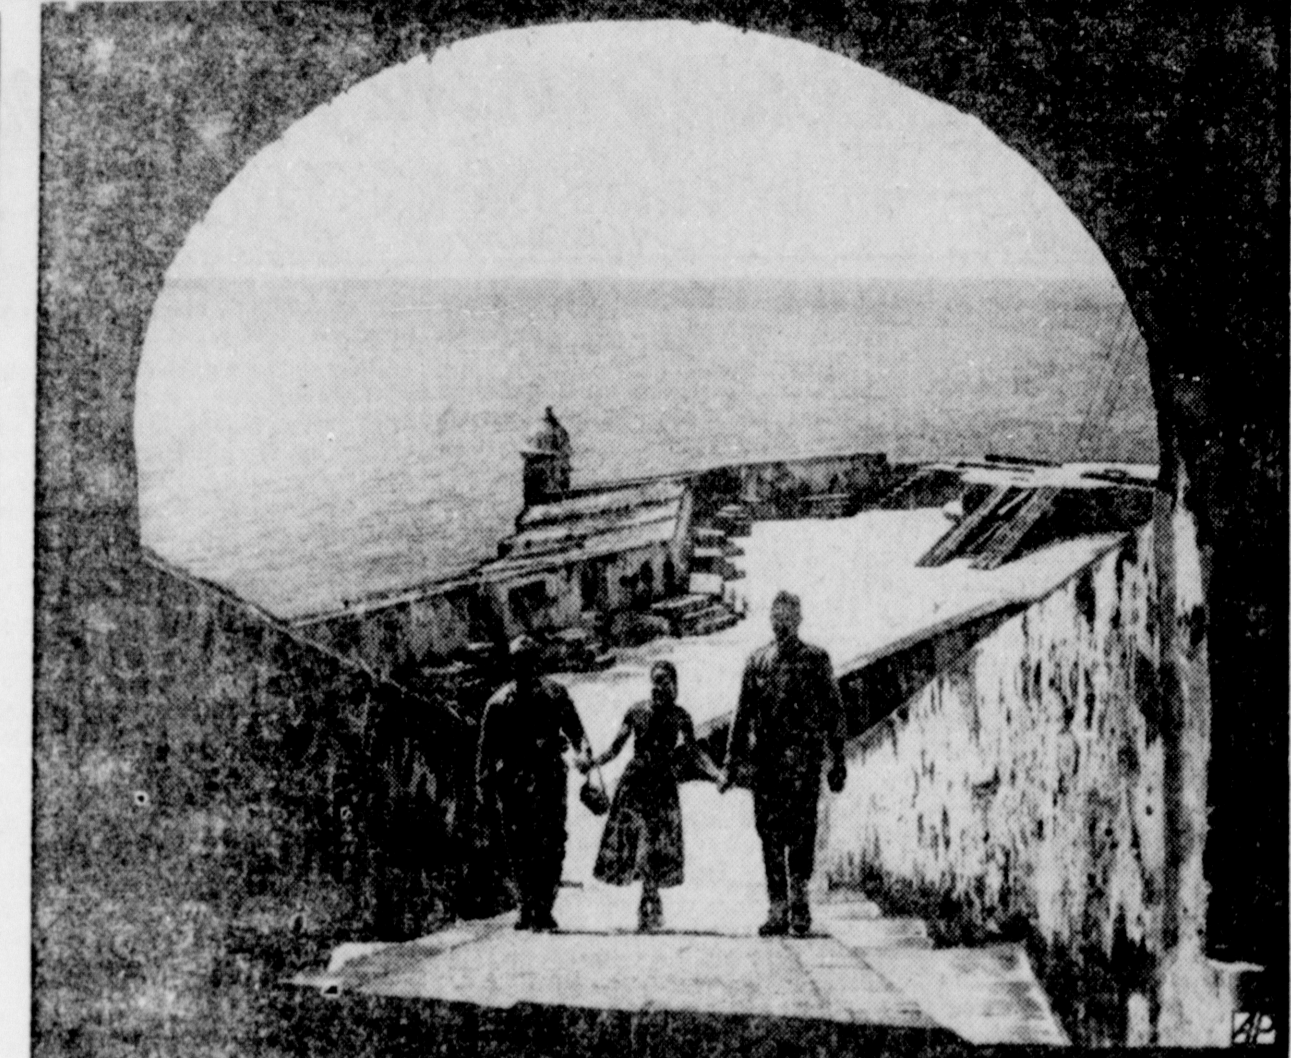

At the same time, the commission kept the buck season on the usual two-week basis from Dec. 1 through Dec. 13.

Hunters seeking to kill antlerless deer will have to pay $1.15 for a special license in addition to the regular $3.15 hunting license.

The special license must be purchased in the county where the applicant will hunt. Quotas for the counties will be announced later.

Archers' Season
Bow and arrow hunters will have their own deer season, running from Oct. 13 through Oct. 25 for male deer only. A bow-and-arrow license costs $2.

The 1952 deer season will run from Nov. 15 to Nov. 22 with a

The commission announced the small game season, as in other years, will open on Nov. 1. It will close Nov. 15 for bobwhite quail, but will run, through Nov. 29 for ruffed grouse, wild turkeys, ring-necked pheasants, cottontail rabbits and gray, black and fox squirrels.

Adams Closed On Turkeys
Counties closed to turkey hunting this year will include Butler. The others are Adams, Armstrong, Fayette, Greene, Mercer, Somerset, Venango, Westmoreland and York.

Year-round hunting of red squirrels and woodchucks or groundhogs has been authorized by the commission, except for the month of October. Bag limits on all small game are the same as last year for the most part.

Other seasons: Snowshoe rabbits, Jan. 1-10; Raccoons, hunting or trapping, Oct. 15-Feb. 1; minks, Nov. 5-Dec. 15; muskrats, Nov. 29-Jan. 15; beavers, Feb. 16-March 7; Grackles, skunks and opossums, unprotected to Sept. 1.

There will be closed seasons for bea pheasants, Hungarian partridges, cub bears, elk, spike bucks and otters.

NLRB Denies Charge Against Attorney

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charges that a National Labor Relations Board attorney participated in both the prosecution and decision of a case were denied Thursday by the NLRB.

The case concerned charges of unfair labor practices brought against the Kanmak Mills, Inc., of the Kulpmont Manufacturing Co., Inc., Kulpmont, Pa., by the CIO Textile Workers Union of America. The NLRB ordered the company to halt the labor practices cited, but the company complained that Arthur Christopher, a member of counsel for the NLRB during the trial of the case, also was involved in the board's final decision.

NLRB trial examiner George Bokst said, after a review of the case, that Christopher "did not participate or advise both in functions of investigation or prosecution and in functions of decision in this case."

MAY PROBE RED INFILTRATION IN TREASURY DEPT.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.) announced the Senate internal security subcommittee may investigate possible Communist infiltration of the Treasury Department and other government fiscal agencies.

The group's 18-month probe of the Institute of Pacific Relations (IPR), McCarran said, brought out evidence of Communist penetration of the Treasury Department during the war.

McCarran said he did not know how far it had gone but declared his subcommittee "may go into the situation" unless some other group undertakes an investigation. The internal security unit turned in a report to the Senate Wednesday charging that Communists and pro-Communists took control of the IPR and influenced U. S. policies in the Far East.

Charges "Untrue"
The report accused Owen Lattimore of intentionally serving Communist causes, and of lying to the committee on at least five points.

It recommended perjury action against Lattimore, a Far Eastern affairs specialist and Johns Hopkins University professor, and John P. Davies Jr., a State Department official.

Lattimore promptly said the accusations were untrue and the call for perjury action "fantastic." Davies, now deputy director of political affairs for the U. S. at Bonn, said in Germany that he "certainly" denied the perjury allegations.

Community Helping Dead Miner's Family

LYKENS, Pa. (AP) — Civic and service organizations began a drive in this upper Dauphin County town today to raise funds for the family of a miner crushed to death in a coal slide.

The body of Allen Sedesse, 28, was located Wednesday 70 feet below the surface of the earth in an independent coal operation after two continuous days of hand-digging by rescue workers.

Sedesse left a widow Helen, and four small children. They are June, 5; Linda, 4; Allen Jr., 2, and Michael, eight months.

Burgess Harold Shambaugh, promised the full cooperation of the borough in obtaining aid for the family. The Miners, Breakermen and

Arcadia Firemen's Exposition July 14-19

The "Duke of Paducah," nationally known radio star, pays his initial visit to Maryland, Monday, July 14, when he arrives in Arcadia, Md., to officially open the Arcadia Volunteer Firemen's gigantic exposition to be held July 14-19.

More than eight acres of land is devoted exclusively to exhibits, games, rides of all types and midway attractions. Rides for both big and little include the ferris wheel, merry-go-rounds, big dips and little dips. Each night will feature a new program. One of the chief features every night will be a high wire and pole trapeze performance taking place 125 feet above the ground.

On Monday night is offered the "Duke of Paducah" in person to officially open the big show. Tuesday night brings out Tex Danieles and his group and also the beauty contest, at which time the beauty queen, Miss Volunteer Firefighter of 1952, will be selected. Wednesday night is the mammoth firemen's parade. This will include over 45 fire trucks and other pieces of firefighting equipment, 14 bands and drum and bugle corps, a large number of decorative floats, a great number of marching units of which some are expected to be of various military organizations.

Secret Recording By CBS Is Aired

NEW YORK (AP)—Recorded portions of the GOP National Committee hearing on the Texas delegate dispute were carried last night on a Columbia Broadcasting System radio program.

The hearing in Chicago yesterday was banned to radio and television facilities.

CBS announced that the recording was made without the knowledge of the committee and proved that a broadcast could be done with "No fuss whatsoever."

For many years, mammoth tusks found in the Arctic regions of Russia furnished a source of ivory.

WORK ON RIDDLE OF TOOTH DECAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government scientists are causing teeth to flash signal lights in a new attack on the riddle of dental decay.

Reporting Thursday, researchers of the National Bureau of Standards gave this outline:

It has long been known that human teeth can be made to fluoresce — that is, give off visible light—when exposed to ultraviolet light which is itself invisible.

It has also been known that substances which have the property of fluorescence give off light "flashes" of varying intensities — according to the composition of the particular substance illuminated.

Taking advantage of these facts — and developing special apparatus for their work—the NBS men say they have obtained details of tooth structure not apparent under other methods of study. And they say the information is expected to be of value in explaining the mechanism of tooth decay.

The temperature of melting ice is zero on Centigrade and 32 degrees on Fahrenheit temperature.

Eight Killed And 20 Hurt In Bus Accident

WINNIPEG (AP) — Eight persons were killed and 20 others injured Thursday when a Winnipeg-bound Greyhound Bus crashed into the rear of semi-trailer transport truck about 14 miles south of here.

At least one of the injured passengers was listed as in critical condition.

The impact sheared off the right front side of the bus, opening the metal body like a tin can. Passengers in the first half-dozen rows of seats in the bus took the brunt of the terrific impact. Several of them were thrown onto the highway, including the body of a dead child.

UNITED NATIONS (P) - Soviet Russia Thursday vetoed an American proposal for an impartial inquiry into Communist germ warfare charges.

The Security Council vote was 10-1 for an investigation in Red China and North Korea by the International Red Cross.

Soviet Delegate Jacob A. Malik had warned in advance that he would veto the U. S. proposal because the council refused to invite the Chinese and Korean Communists to take part in the debate.

START TURNIPS AND RUTABAGAS

Turnips and rutabagas belong prominently in the late home garden. Because the roots may be stored over winter easily in outdoor burial mounds, they are economical crops where cellar space is restricted. In fact, both vegetables remain in peak condition in burial, with small supplies taken from the mounds to bridge over periods of inclement weather.

There are few differences between cultural practices for turnips and rutabagas except that the latter crop requires from four to five weeks longer to mature. Therefore, rutabaga seed should sown no later than this week, while turnips may be started as late as the middle of July. Growers who wish to add kohlrabi to late garden crops may sow seed any time during the next two weeks. Many persons prefer the flavor and texture of kohlrabi to turnips.

All three of these late vegetables require a finely pulverized seed bed, a fertile loam, well drained and mellow. In most cases where an earlier vegetable was liberally fertilized, any of these may be grown as the final fall crop without additional fertilizer. If there are any dangers of standing water, ditches should be formed or the crops should be grown on slightly raised beds.

Extra early crops of turnips and rutabagas are usually grown in rows, but the late crops are generally broadcast. Crowding young plants may be removed and eaten as greens. In fact, turnip greens rank exceptionally high in food values and they often merit extra and later sowings until mid-September to provide tender greens for table use until winter arrives. Throughout the South gardeners grow a special variety of turnips for their tops, commonly called Shogin or Shogon turnip. Many thin the plants and retain specimens for growth into roots later. The leaves of this variety are unusually large for greens.

Purple Top White Globe is one of the most widely popular varieties among turnips for the late crop and winter storage. It matures in slightly less than nine weeks after sowing seed. The Improved American Purple Top and Laurentian are the most widely grown varieties of yellow-fleshed rutabagas. It is assumed that rutabagas, because of their yellow flesh, are richer in vitamin A. Many persons prefer the taste or rutabagas to the taste of turnips.

A half ounce of seed will sow an area of 300 square feet or a row 300 feet long. Always cover turnip and rutabaga seed shallowly, preferably by raking them into the surface soil.

Both crops are immune to injury by light frosts and may thus be left in the ground until quite late in the fall. Then before freezing weather arrives the roots should be pulled and the tops twisted off to leave quite long leaf stems. They should be piled in conical heaps on a liberal layer of dry wheat straw, hay or other vegetation, covered with similar litter and then with a layer of soil. The main idea is to prevent loss of moisture (shriveling) until freezing weather comes, then to cover with sufficient soil to prevent freezing.

A small supply for immediate table use may be stored in a cool, moist cellar or to carry the family over periods when the ground is so frozen that burial mounds cannot be opened.

If aphids attack either crop, kill them off with a spray of Black Leaf 40 in soapy water. Flea beetles, which eat small holes in the leaves, can be fully controlled with a rotenone spray or dust.

GROW SNAP BEANS TO DRY

The old prophet's declaration that "there is nothing new under the sun" can be applied to such prosaic matters as drying vegetables and fruits for home use. For example, early settlers could store little food by canning because they did not have jars or other necessary equipment. Therefore, drying was their chief method of providing food for winter. Among the vegetables they learned to dry were snap beans. With the advent of canning and especially after commercial canning made its way into our way of life, dried green beans passed from the American scene except in isolated rural communities. In the last few years housewives are re-learning that dry snap beans are among the delicacies of stored foods.

There are two ways to dry snap beans—the old-fashioned method and the modern method. Both are simple and inexpensive and the product leaves little to be desired in flavor and general tastiness.

The colonist who was compelled to carry as much of his garden through winter months as was possible merely dried the green beans by spreading them in the sun or, if weather was not suitable, the beans were strung on heavy thread and the strings suspended above the fireplace or cooking stove. Many utilized the attic for this purpose, hanging the long strings of beans from the rafters until the beans were thoroughly dry. The editor has many housewives in the South following a similar method of placing the whole beans on strings but drying them by more modern means—electric fans, oven driers, and screened trays placed in the sun.

By the latest improved methods the beans are prepared as for cooking, either left whole or cut in halves. They are then steamed for 15 minutes over briskly boiling water in a closed container, such as a wash boiler or even in a pressure cooker. Then prepared beans are held in a wire basket or colander just above the water level and steamed until they are heated through or until they are almost cooked. Then they are dried by spreading them on thin cloth or drier trays and drying them thoroughly in an oven drier, in sun, above cooking stoves, or in electric driers. If enclosed driers are employed, the temperature should rise no higher than 155 degrees F.

Beans dried by the former or colonial method should be soaked overnight before cooking. Those dried by the modern processes may be cooked in about 30 to 45 minutes by ordinary methods.

Many urban persons may dismiss this subject by saying that green beans may be bought so cheaply canned that it will not be worth the trouble to buy and dry them. Of course, anyone who makes such a statement has never eaten dried green beans—"leather-britches" they are called in many parts of the country. For tasty goodness few other vegetables surpass dried snap beans in winter.

Because so little space is needed for storing dried beans, housewives should buy economical supplies whenever available and gardeners and farmers should plant a liberal late crop solely for this purpose. From late June until mid-July is a satisfactory time to make the main late planting.

Thunderstorms Pelt
Third of Nation

By The Associated Press
Thunderstorms which pelted the eastern third of the nation yesterday were due today to dampen the Central and Southern Plains states and Rocky Mountain areas.

The rains dipped temperatures on the Middle Atlantic Coast but warmer weather was predicted for the Great Lakes and Upper Mississippi Valley regions.

Several million persons dotting New York City area beaches—more than a million at Coney Island alone—were routed by the sudden showers.

Temperatures in the Far West were expected to remain unchanged today, continuing seasonably warm.

CIVIL RIGHTS
TROUBLE HITS
GOP PLATFORM

CHICAGO (AP) — Republican platform architects admitted unhappily today they have trouble with their plank on civil rights.

In recent years this convention headache has afflicted mostly the Democrats but now it's bothering the GOP as well.

Sen. Eugene D. Millikin of Colorado, chairman of the Platform Committee, told this reporter he now has rough drafts from 10 or 11 subcommittees, "all except civil rights."

Cover Not Quite Tight

"If we don't get one from the subcommittee then the full committee will have to write it," the Coloradan added.

Millikin still tried to keep a tight cover on details of the 1952 platform but other committee sources provided this version:

All members on the civil rights subgroup agreed that the party should not urge a compulsory federal system of combating racial discrimination.

Some Republicans favor strict federal anti-poll tax, anti-lynch and anti-discrimination measures but neither Sen. Robert A. Taft nor Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has gone this far. As front-running prospective presidential candidates it was felt their views should prevail.

Some Are Irked

As a compromise and a bid for Negro and other racial votes, some committeemen suggested a voluntary federal commission which could ban discrimination on government jobs and government contracts.

They also proposed that the voluntary commission be authorized to examine into racial conditions at state and local levels and make recommendations.

These latter proposals irked other subcommittees who insisted that if Republicans are to gain Southern votes the party platform should favor "hands off" at state and local levels.

Small Boy Saves
Dog This Time

SEWARD, N. Y. (AP)—It was the small boy who rescued the dog this time.

State police had worked for hours trying to free a collie from a culvert, when a small boy stepped from among the bystanders.

The youngster stripped off his clothes, crawled into the culvert and tied a rope around the dog, which then was pulled free. It had been trapped eight hours.

The boy vanished before troopers could find out his name.

Ice may be the same temperature as the water around it, but before it can melt the ice must absorb heat.
